

The Reception of African American Literature in the Soviet Union and Russia

Olga Panova

Tuesday, September 28 | 12:15 pm ET | GA 4067
Online lecture via Zoom

Those unable to get to GA 4067 can tune in from elsewhere: Register for the Zoom meeting here

Olga Panova is Professor in the Department of Foreign Literature at Moscow State University, Lead Research Fellow at the Gorky Institute of World Literatures in the Russian Academy of Sciences, and Editor-in-Chief of Literature of the Americas. A leading Russian specialist in American literature and African American literature in particular, she is the author of Цветные миры: Американская литература в поисках национальной самобытности [Worlds of Color: American Literature in Search of National Identity] (Moscow University Publishers, 2014) as well as articles devoted to the works of Phyllis Wheatley, Claude McKay, Ralph Ellison, and Richard Wright.

Persons with disabilities who wish to attend this event and would like to request assistance should contact the REEI office at (812) 855-7309 or reei@indiana.edu.

Sponsors: Russian and East European Institute, Department of African American and African Diaspora Studies, Department of Comparative Literature, and the Department of American Studies